Letter from the President

Greetings Friends and Colleagues and Welcome to our Sapphire Anniversary:

45th Annual ROCKY MOUNTAIN REGIONAL EMMY® AWARDS

Last year we were able to get back together in person at the Phoenician Resort and what a great time we had, while taking some necessary precautions along the way. I remember telling you back then that by the time we celebrate again, we would hopefully be back to something reminiscent of "normal." Well, here we are and it is great to see you!

We are happy to have Theresa Maher as our Event Chair again this year and Mark Reda back as our Awards Chair. All the work for this event is accomplished throughout the year by committees, the Board of Governors and our indispensable team. I would like to give special thanks to Lara Gates, our long-time executive director for her fantastic service to our organization and members. She was recently recruited to join our parent organization, NATAS in New York. We did a national search to fill this unexpected, huge void and were very fortunate to find Jessica O'Toole at 12 News, in Phoenix. She and Lara worked side by side during the transition and Jessica is now our full-time administrator. I know they will both be immensely successful in their new roles and we thank them both for their service. None of what you will see and experience tonight would be possible without the hard work and dedication of the event team and board, which have been chosen by you, our chapter members.

As you may be aware, one of our goals is to ensure we have a diverse group of board members, inclusive of the markets throughout our region, as well as all facets of our craft and industry. We will be announcing board elections soon and would be honored to have many of our members volunteer to fill these upcoming openings. If you are interested, please reach out to us.

Another priority is to continue focusing on supporting and mentoring our future leaders through educational programs, scholarships and the Student Production Awards. When you have a chance, please check out the resources, information, and chapter history available at rockymountainemmy.org

We are elated that we were able to return to in-person, stand-alone events for both our Gold & Silver Circle inductions and our Student Production Awards, this year. It was truly a team effort. My gratitude goes out to all those who helped make these events special for the honorees, nominees, recipients, and attendees.

On behalf of the entire Rocky Mountain Southwest Chapter and your Board of Governors, we would like to congratulate all our nominees, recipients, and honorees.

Thank you for joining us to celebrate together, or apart. Good luck, stay safe and be well,

DOUG MUMMERT

President, Rocky Mountain Southwest Chapter
The National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences

Governors' AWARD

DR. JOHN CRAFT

The Rocky Mountain Southwest Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences is pleased to present this year's Governors' Award to Dr. John Craft.

The Governors' Award is the Academy's top honor and a well-deserved recognition for Dr. Craft who has dedicated his career to creating and nurturing exceptional journalism.

As the longest-serving faculty member of the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communications, Dr. Craft has educated thousands of students for nearly a half century, developing talent and passion among generations of television journalists.

His impact stretches beyond the classroom, into the offices of some of the industry's top media executives where he has provided critical counsel at the local, regional, national and international levels. A 2012 inductee into the Gold Circle Society, Dr. Craft has solidified his legacy in the industry. On behalf of the Board of Governors and the entire NATAS community, we thank you, Dr. Craft, for your commitment to education and excellence in journalism.

Letter from Awards Chair

"Let your hopes, not your hurts, shape your future."
— Robert H. Schuller

Welcome to the 2022 Rocky Mountain Regional Emmy Awards Ceremony. You are here because you created great content. Each nominee comes to the Gala with great hope. Remember, there are more nominees than recipients. Just to be nominated is a great accomplishment.

2022 has been a year of renewal and transition for the Awards Committee. Lara Gates, our long-time Executive Director has moved on to the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences as their Awards Administrator. She was an invaluable part of our Awards process and a truly wonderful person. Lara graciously assisted during this year's process. This chapter is blessed to welcome Jessica O'Toole as our new Administrator. Jessica is cut from the same cloth as Lara — personable, hard-working and a quick study.

This year we also said goodbye to Connie Harmsen. Connie has secretly tallied and hand-checked all judges' ballots for longer than I can remember. She was a valuable member of our Awards team. Our heartfelt thanks to Connie. We welcome Twyla Bass onto our team and look forward to a great future.

2022 was another active year in our region. On the Professional level, there were nearly 900 entries. College entries numbered 137 with High School students producing more than 150 entries. As usual, every entry was vetted for potential eligibility and rules violations by the Awards Committee. Entries were judged by at least seven qualified peers from nine other chapters. We continued to utilize bilingual judging in several categories.

Many thanks to all those chapter members who judged other chapter's entries. You provide an important service to our chapter and to the entire NATAS community. It's also an opportunity to study different techniques in content creation and learn new methods that could lead to future nominations.

Special acknowledgement of the members of the Awards Committee, without whom all this work could not be done. The Committee is happy to answer all questions and help with any issues regarding the entry process.

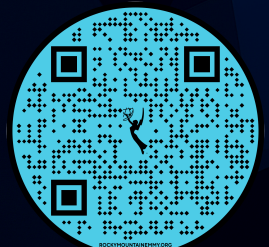

To the recipients, congratulations. Continue to do outstanding work in the future. To those who aren't taking home a statuette, continue to work hard; continue to produce great content, continue to enter, and continue to let hope shape your future.

"We have always held to the hope, the belief, the conviction that there is a better life, a better world, beyond the horizon."
— Franklin D. Roosevelt.

INDUCTEE

BRIAN CISEK

Brian Cisek is the original Creative Services Director and Production Manager at AZTV 7, Arizona's only locally-owned and operated independent station. Television and media were not Brian's original plan for a career. He began his journey as an Astronomy/Physics major at the University of Arizona. The summer of his sophomore year he visited KUAT, the PBS station on campus, and was immediately hooked.

Brian began his television career in New York, where he worked as an engineer/operator at Staten Island Teleport before moving to production manager at WLIG, an independent station on Long Island. In 1995, Brian and his wife moved to Phoenix where he landed a part-time job at FOX10 working as master control, tape and audio operator. He then took a full-time job at KUTP and the new United Paramount Network (UPN) as a promotions producer and line-producer for Phoenix Suns games. He found himself back at FOX10 when FOX Broadcasting Company bought the station in 2001.

When KAZT-TV (AZTV) began in 2002, Brian was brought in to get the new start-up operating, and he never left. To Lynn Londen, station owner, "Brian has made himself indispensable as an integral part of all station operations and any success we achieve." He is the creative force behind the station's brand as well as wearing many other hats: producer, director, graphic designer, editor, photographer, promotions and outreach coordinator.

"His willingness to provide whatever a client requests, and his desire to over-deliver has earned him incredibly strong relationships in the business," says Rick Soltesz, station GM. Brian also developed and maintains the station's internship program, and is proud to have helped in launching many promising careers. In addition, "Brian provides guidance to many independent program producers, helping to get their projects launched on broadcast TV," according to Michael Petry, Creative Content Manager. Brian is a board member with the Arizona Broadcasters Association, recipient of Vitalant's Media Person for the Year award, and enjoys speaking with high school CTE students and educators about his broadcast knowledge and experiences. Brian is also a regular blood donor, supports local charities and enjoys coaching youth soccer. Brian and his wife Maureen have been married for 28 years and have three daughters: Nicole, Kathryn, and Emily.

PARKER HARMS

It was a choice between working in the DA's office or at a television station. For Parker Harms, that first big career choice out of college was an easy one, accepting her first job out of college at KOAA in Colorado Springs, Colorado. When she left Colorado what she took away from that first "promotions" job was a career-long belief in local news broadcast stations and their importance to our world.

After a couple of years doing award-winning creative work for an agency in Dallas and freelance writing for WXYZ in Detroit, Parker moved back to Colorado for a short radio stint. Then, in 1983 while visiting family in Santa Fe, an impulse call to a General Manager in Albuquerque, eventually landed her the top station marketing job at ABC affiliate KOAT. It was there that she began a career-long practice of working closely with news directors to blend marketing and public service efforts with the news product.

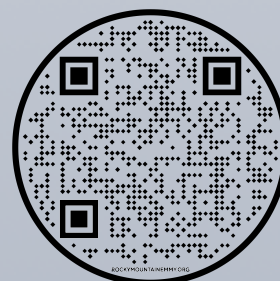

"When I was the News Director at KOAT-TV, Parker and I were locked at the hip", remembers Mary Lynn Roper. "Parker was not shy to tell me when she thought our product was off the mark or that we were getting kicked by the competition. Parker cares about people, cares about her community, cares about informing the public, and her work is truly outstanding. Parker was a pleasure to work with, producing award winning, thoughtful and important marketing campaigns."

Although Parker left broadcasting a few times for jobs in public service, including 4 years of consensus work for non-profit New Mexico First, she always returned. Broadcasting touches what is most important to her, helping people get information and offering them a way to help or get help when needed. "I've never met a more intuitive person than Parker. She knows what our community needs, when they need it. And she follows through 100%" notes Michelle Donaldson, Vice President & General Manager at KOB 4.

Among the major projects Parker is most proud of is the launch and success of "KOATS for KIDS" which is still collecting warm clothes for needy children & a viewer-centric campaign to change DWI laws.

"Parker's passion is what makes her successful. As Creative Services Director, Parker does not see each station project or initiative as something to just cross off the list. Instead, she views each project as an opportunity to improve our world. Parker has worked at every major network affiliate in the Albuquerque market. It is safe to say that Parker's fingerprints are on every station's success", notes KOB news director, Tim Maestas.

Outside of work, Parker and long-time partner Jeff are dedicated "critter" rescuers, counting dogs, cats, deer, horses, birds, turtles, frogs and insects among the species they've helped or homed.

In 1979 when a marketing internship during college in Milwaukee at WITI-TV turned into a job offer, Bill Anderson started his journey along an incredible career in the industry. From floor crew to news and production manager to director of promotion and operations and Station Marketing and Operations Manager, Bill learned the full spectrum of television station jobs at WQOW in Eau Claire, KCRG in Cedar Rapids and WGGB in Springfield Massachusetts. These station assignments cemented a career-long appreciation for the importance of ideas and determination over market limitations.

On the way to becoming a GM, Bill won an Emmy® in 1993 when he created Flood Aid: Broadcast Across America for the American Red Cross, a National Telethon with 255 TV stations coast-to-coast agreeing to simulcast this program for the benefit of those ruined by the great Iowa floods that year. In just 11 days Bill enlisted the help of competitors and convinced NBC to lend Willard Scott, ABC to send Spencer Christian and CBS to provide actor-comedian Jay Thomas. Barry Manilow got involved with a song, and the NAB urged all its members to air it. In the end, Flood Aid raised $8.5M in one night and earned the distinction of being both the largest TV network in history but also one of the largest single-event Red Cross fundraisers.

For Bill personally, Flood Aid provided a glimpse of the power of Local TV to do good, and inspired a desire to become a GM who harnesses the talents of others to do well and to do good with a public license. He soon got his first GM posting in Tallahassee, FL at WTWC-TV and from there to WGME, Portland finally landing at KRQE in Albuquerque in 1999. Since then he has expanded the operation into a four Station "Quad" configuration which includes KRQE (CBS), FOXNM as well as KWBQ and KASY all known as KRQE Media.

Bill has always remembered those lessons from early in his career and focused on the community and supporting/encouraging individuals and their talents. His involvement in our region has included roles on the board of the Muscular Dystrophy Association, the March of Dimes, United Way Mission Families and he has been named New Mexico Broadcaster GM of the Year. Bill takes a personal interest in helping others and perhaps no better example is when he mentored and then hired a man transitioning back to society after a decade in the New Mexico state prison system. He did the same for a homeless man in the area.

Bill's partner and wife, Debbie have been together 42 years and raised three children and enjoy 5 grandchildren.

EDWARD AYALA

Edward Ayala grew up in a small farming community in the Arizona/Sonora Mexico border. The son of migrant farm workers, Edward learned to till the land and irrigate crops at the age of 10. When his parents became United States citizens they opened an auto repair shop which would change Edward's world and career path. At 12, Edward met a photographer from a local television station at that repair shop.

What started as a hello ended up with him holding a TV camera on his shoulder and seeing a whole new world through the viewfinder of that camera. This was the beginning of Edward's storytelling career.

Edward started his career in television at the age of 15 at KYMA in Yuma, Arizona as a part-time production tape operator. He went on to become a Technical Director and Director of the evening newscasts. At age 18 he was promoted to Production Manager leading the Production and Creative Services staff. At the age of 20 Edward moved to Tucson, AZ, working as a Photojournalist at KOLD and Chief Photographer at KGUN. He was recruited to the Phoenix market by KNXV as a Photojournalist then promoted to investigative and special projects. He is currently an Investigative Producer/Photojournalist at KPHO/KTVK.

Edward is a recipient of several Rocky Mountain Southwest Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences Emmy® Awards. As well as multiple Edward R. Murrow awards, and an Alfred I DuPont award.

In 2016 Edward joined the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication at Arizona State University where he is a highly regarded adjunct professor teaching videography and editing. He has taught and mentored hundreds of students who are now working Journalists in newsrooms across the country, including Phoenix.

Arizona's Family

congratulates Edward Ayala,
Gibby Parra and Paul Horton on their induction into the 2022 Silver Circle.

Thank you for the passion and dedication you bring every day to Arizona's Family.

Congratulations to Brian Cisek,
Parker Harms, Bill Anderson and Jose
Teposte for their induction into the 2022 Silver Circle and to Al McCoy on his induction to the 2022 Gold Circle.

Arizona's Family would like to congratulate all the media professionals nominated for an Emmy® Award during this year's ceremony. We are thankful for your dedication to your craft. It's because of you local journalism flourishes.

PAUL HORTON

Paul Horton has done thousands of live shots in Arizona and considers the valley his forever home. He was the morning meteorologist and host of the CBS 5 morning show for nine years. Paul now brings you the weather forecast on Good Evening Arizona at 4 p.m., and helps host “The Extra Point” sports show each evening. He also does a weekly segment for the “Pay It Forward” program that highlights people doing great things in our community.

Paul is a graduate of the communication/broadcasting program at George Fox University and received his meteorology degree from Mississippi State University. He is a nine-time Emmy® award winner and recipient of the Rocky Mountain Southwest Chapter of the National Television of Arts & Sciences Governor’s Award for his work on his annual car wash. Being involved in the community is very important to Paul. In the last 14 years, Paul’s car wash has raised close to 2 million dollars for Big Brothers Big Sisters of Arizona.

Paul is originally from Portland, Oregon and was a weather anchor in Spokane and Cincinnati before moving to Phoenix. On the weekends, you can find Paul hosting events, coaching his kids teams, and exploring the great state of Arizona with his wife Jennifer, and their two children Jake and Samantha.

GILBERT PARRA

A long time ago Gilbert “Gibby” Parra’s mother told him ‘If you love what you do, then you’ll never work a day in your life.’ and after 34 years in broadcasting, Gibby still doesn’t feel like it’s work. Not that he hasn’t been busy.

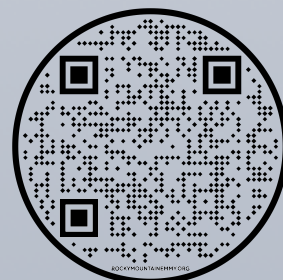

From his first job, at the age of 17, at a Yuma television station, to over 25 years at KTVK in Phoenix, he has continued to be an asset to the television community. Gibby has shot and edited stories across Arizona, then above it, establishing himself as the go-to helicopter photographer. Then one day, after years behind the camera, he had the opportunity to move in front of it, and the truth be told, he was just a born storyteller.

Gibby is a serious reporter who can quickly turn a live report on a difficult situation with integrity and professionalism, but he is also a reporter who can take a human interest story and brighten the day for all who are watching. In fact he is at his best when he has the opportunity to interact with people in the story. His ability to elicit an emotional reaction from the person he is interviewing and translate that emotional feeling to the viewer is a unique connection not many journalists have been able to achieve.

John Warren wrote, “As an assignment editor at TV3 I had the opportunity to watch Gibby work daily and was impressed from the beginning with his work ethic and desire to experience all aspects of television news. As a photojournalist and video editor Gibby had a knack for storytelling and has always tried to push himself to do more.”

Now, as Good Morning Arizona’s Chief Photographer, Gibby supervises about 10 news photographers every morning, while still working in the field every day, on both sides of the camera. As technology has evolved over the years, so has Gibby’s knowledge, whether it’s cameras, editing, flying drones or new computer skills he loves being the first to master the latest thing, and then sharing it with his colleagues. On the street, Gibby is recognized by many people in the community and has been an excellent ambassador for the television industry throughout his career. Even with his busy schedule, Gibby has never forgotten his roots, hometown or the people who helped him along the way. Every year he brings journalism students from his high school in Yuma to tour the AZfamily studios and encourages them to work hard and become the best version of themselves. He is the first to volunteer to speak at schools and every week he produces his church’s Sunday service so it can be viewed on TV and has done so for over a dozen years. Gibby also enjoys family time with his wife, Davina, their children and grandchildren.

While Gibby is truly living his dream job, the NATAS Silver Circle might have been beyond those dreams when he started out in Yuma all those years ago, so he is humbled and honored to be included in the 2022 class of Silver Circle inductees.

JOSE TEPOSTE

Jose “Big Joe” Teposte is a fixture in the Yuma television scene. A native of that southern Arizona city, Jose began his broadcasting journey at the local NBC affiliate right after high school. In his 25+ years at KYMA, Jose has held a dozen different jobs from Floor Director to Photographer to News Operations Manager, but his biggest contribution to broadcasting may be the people he has helped along the way.

Jose’s nomination was filled with accolades about his mentoring, both seeking the right mentor and being one to others. His success as a newsroom leader has positioned him as one of the most sought-after mentors for journalists. Many careers were launched and flourished because he took the time and interest to guide young broadcasters along the right path, but Jose’s desire to give back extends beyond his journalistic ethos. Because of his strong roots in the community he created the Desert Syndicate Car and Bike Club in 2018. The club brings together members with an interest in philanthropic work to help those who need a helping hand. As a founder of this organization, he has facilitated the development of food pantries in neighborhoods that face food insecurity and coordinated efforts to raise funds, gather supplies, and bring awareness to social issues within Yuma County. Jose is always willing to pitch in for the good of the community regardless of the mission.

His philosophy has remained the same since the day he first looked through a viewfinder, community is everything. He is a trailblazer, both as a journalist and as a role model for young professionals. His passion for leadership, commitment to the professional development of others and focus on providing high-quality talent make him a perfect addition to the Silver Circle.

AL McCOY

Dubbed the dean of NBA play-by-play and now in his 50th season as the “Voice of the Suns,” Al McCoy holds the NBA’s longest consecutive run as a team broadcaster. He first hit the air during a 1972 preseason game and is now an indelible part of the Suns brand. From “Shazam” to “Zing Go the Strings” to “Heartbreak Hotel,” McCoy has cultivated an unparalleled style that fans love. Just last year, Phoenix Magazine readers named McCoy the best play-by-play announcer for the 23rd consecutive time.

His list of awards is long: in 2017, he was inducted into the Phoenix Suns Ring of Honor. He received the 18th Annual Curt Gowdy Media Award from the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, was honored by the Suns with the dedication of the Al McCoy Media Center, received a Silver Circle Award from the Arizona chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences and a Lifetime Achievement Award from the House of Broadcasting. He is also the first play-by-play announcer to be inducted into the Arizona Broadcasters Association Hall of Fame.

A native of Iowa, McCoy played basketball and admired legendary sports broadcasters growing up. As fate would have it, he is one himself now, having done play by play for many Arizona teams, including the Phoenix Giants, Phoenix Roadrunners, ASU football and basketball, Arizona Diamondbacks and the Phoenix Mercury.

In his spare time, Al is an accomplished jazz pianist and culinary critic scouting gourmet restaurants around the league. He and his beloved wife Georgia, a Valley artist who passed away in 2012, have three sons: Mike, and twins Jay and Jerry.
